

Sharing Session of Project Mingde - Your light should light up others!

Winson Wing Nin CHU BEng(CivE) (4) III

Kristie Ka Ki KWOK BEng (4) I

A sharing session delivered by the current members of Project Mingde was held on 4th March, 2015 to promote Project Mingde within the campus and to recruit a new generation of student members in order to ensure the continuity of Project Mingde.

There were altogether 30 participants and they are from different faculties, including Engineering, Law, Architecture, Business and Economics, and Science. Surprisingly, there are more than 45 students registered for being a member of Project Mingde within a week after the sharing session!

Figure 1: Current members are sharing their experience with the participants.

The session was composed of three parts. First of all, it was the sharing of our core members, Steve Ho, Bond Chong, Martin Wong and Samson Pung. They covered mainly the core values of Project Mingde and what they have done and learnt. From their sharing, we could see that they gained a lot from Project Mingde and the spirit of our slogan “We grow as we build” was vividly revealed. Project Mingde not only helps the impoverished children in the mainland, it also saved our students. They start to realise that they are the lucky ones and they should treasure what they have and help others in need. This is what Samson mentioned in the sharing, “Your light should light up others!”.

The second part was presented by Dr. Ryan Wong regarding the upcoming projects in Sancun Village, Daping Village and Vietnam. Then, it was followed by group discussions. Participants were divided into three small groups with three to four current members of Project Mingde so that they could raise any questions in a relatively casual manner. All the groups had fruitful discussions and the participants knew more about the mission and vision of Project Mingde, especially what they could do and the associated workload. Participants were touched with what Project Mingde did in the past ten years and a lot of them immediately registered as a member of Project Mingde! It was a meaningful evening and we all look forward to working with the passionate and enthusiastic new members!

Figure 2: Dr. Ryan Wong is presenting the upcoming projects.

Figure 3: Group discussion