

LAM Cheuk Ting - BEng (CivE) III

It has been a unique experience to me as it was my first time to step into a rural village in China and get to understand problems they are facing in their livelihood. We spent the first day on commute and a brief look around of the site-Duling primary school in a small village near Guigang, Guangxi. Realizing site constraints and more updates on the situation, we divided ourselves into groups and carried out surveying which will be used in finalizing the design of toilets and the kindergarten multi-use block. The occasional interactions with local children were particularly unforgettable. We also spent some time trying out local delicacies and visited a newly constructed garden featuring traditional Chinese architecture in the city on the last day.
