Ir. Leung graduated from The University of Hong Kong in 2001 and joined the HKSAR Government as a geotechnical engineering graduate. She was chartered with ICE at the age of 24, which makes her the youngest Member of ICE (MICE) around the globe. The record remained unbroken until now. Having ample practical experience in slope and foundation designs, Ir. Leung is currently undertaking various geotechnical designs regarding works for other government departments. Her sharing would undoubtedly be useful for us to deepen our understanding regarding the technical issues and future development in the geotechnical engineering field.
